CARTOON NETWORK

Welcome to the all-new CARTOON CARTOONS featuring your favorite Cartoon Network Cartoons. Some of you may be able to remember all the way back a whooole month ago when we were called CARTOON NETWORK STARRING. I know it's difficult, but bear with us, kids: It featured a different cartoon every issue, including Johnny Bravo, Cow & Chicken, I.M. Weasel and Space Ghost: Coast to Coast.

Now it's a new year and we have a new attitude. Gone are the days of waiting for your favorite cartoon's month to hit the comics stands. CARTOON CARTOONS will feature more — many, many more Cartoon Network characters each and every month! This includes Sheep in the Big City, Ed, Edd n Eddy, and Courage the Cowardly Dog, plus you still get many more Johnny's Tips, more Weasel Adventures and Chicken's mayhem. That's all except for Space Ghost, 'cause he's special and he's an expert negotiator. Hey—you try to tell a guy with power bracelets that he has to share his comic! What a prima donna. Meaning every third issue of CARTOON CARTOONS will be all Space Ghost, cover to cover!

We thought it might be a good idea to give you a brief introduction to all of the new kids on the block:

Courage is a pint-size dog who lives on a farm outside the small town of Nowhere — excuse me — Now Here, USA, a place filled with all sorts of paranormal adventures for Courage and his owners, Muriel and the Farmer, to get involved in. Rescued as a pup by Muriel, the always alert Courage is constantly watching over his beloved family.

Hey, here comes Courage now! Come here, boy. That's a good doggie. Come on.

"Roof! Roof! [WHO ARE YOU!!] Roof! [WHERE'S MURIEL?] Roof! [It's a Zombie!] Yip! Yip!"

How many people know someone else with his or her name? Let alone two people with it? Well, that's what happened to these three kids. So you know that they just have to be best friends. One's as strong as an ox, one's smart and one's the leader — we're still trying to figure out who's the handsome one. They spend all of their time trying to earn money to buy jawbreakers or just trying to fit in. Either way, we're all sure to get a big laugh.

Would you like to add anything, Eddie?

"Which one you talk'n to?"

Thanks, guys. Meanwhile we'll continue to enjoy reading and watching them. Eh, fellas, am I the only one who smells that?!

Sheep is the final component needed to complete the Secret Military Organization's Top Secret Weapon, created by the Angry Scientist. Sheep was forced to leave Farmer John and the farm to protect his friends and family. Sheep finds himself on the "lamb" in a big city where he looks for life, love and happiness, while eluding quick-tempered General Specific.

Would you like to add something, Sheep?

"Baa!"

That was deep, Sheep. Just keep checking us out for more words of wisdom from Sheep.

Hey, kids, write to dcocartoon@aol.com or mail to DC Comics, 1700 Broadway, New York, NY 10019.

Other DC Kids' Titles:

Dexter's Laboratory #19: How's a kid to keep soup from dribbling down his shirt? If you're Dexter, you create a super-spongey spoon — and get yourself in a world of trouble when Dee-Dee swipes it!

Looney Tunes #74: March is Weird Science Month as Marvin sets his snooze alarm to blow up the Earth, Bugs tries to escape the Mad Scientist's clutches and Claude Cat becomes a lab rat!

Scooby-Doo #44: Scooby and the gang see stars when a one-eyed alien stalks a planetarium, and they plunge into the Pine Barrens of New Jersey to hunt a legendary devil!

The Powerpuff Girls #11: Say cheese — and say goodbye to Townsville as a camera-happy villain literally captures the town on film! Are the Girls photo-finished this time?

next issue:

Johnny Bravo turns invisible in "See No Johnny," Cow and Chicken buy some big trouble with magic beans in "Chicken and the Beanstalk," and Ed, Edd n Eddy bake themselves a calamity cookie in "Half Bak-Ed"! Written by Paul Kupperberg, Scott Cunningham and Michael Kraiger; art by Neal Sternecky, Mike Kazaleh, Jeff Albrecht, Vincent Deporter and Angus Bungay; cover by Bungay and Scott Underwood.
